Teams from the St. John's Men's League are permitted to add players under the following guidelines:

Teams from St. John's playing in the St. John's Men's League who are short players for the tournament, due to injury or work commitment, are permitted to add a maximum of two players from their division or lower, from teams not entering the tournament. These have to be registered players competing in the league and must be of equal calibre to the athletes they are replacing. The league executive and the NLBA must approve the players added to your rosters prior to the deadline. Teams are not permitted to abuse this rule to strengthen their team for the provincials. It is your responsibility to contact the office regarding any additions you make outside of your usual team competing in your league.
